TAYLOR BOYS
FINED IN COURTChase Gets $10 and Costs and 30
Day Jail Sentence for Avoiding
Service of Grand Jury

IS INDICTED BY THAT BODY

Chester Fined $10 and Costs for
Assaulting Sheriff—Grand Jury
Adjourns Until Wednesday

Chase Taylor was fined $10 and costs and sentenced to thirty days in jail and his brother Chester Taylor was fined $10 and costs this morning by Judge Sparks in the circuit court. Chester paid his fine.

Chase Taylor was fined on an indictment returned by the grand jury late yesterday afternoon. This indictment is one of three returned by the grand jury when it adjourned to meet again next Wednesday. He was charged in the indictment with avoiding the service of a grand jury subpoena. Chester Taylor was fined for assault and battery on Sheriff Cavitt, the charge being made in an affidavit filed in circuit court.

It will be remembered that Monday of this week the sheriff had trouble with the Taylor boys when he attempted to serve grand jury subpoenas on them. Chester Taylor went before the grand jury and testified, but when Sheriff Cavitt attempted to get Chase he avoided the officer and then when the sheriff did get service on him he resisted and Chester came to the assistance of his brother. It was during this trouble that he struck Sheriff Cavitt.

Chase Taylor was given a severe lecture by the court. He was told that the grand jury was a part of the circuit court and the court would not stand to see that body made light of, and gave the boy to understand that a second offense would be dealt with in a stern manner. The court did not ask either of the boys to enter pleas and gave them the privilege of consulting an attorney but both stated that they were guilty as charged.

The fine and costs in the case of Chase Taylor and the jail sentence combined means he will be in jail for a period of 50 days.

It is not known who is involved in the other two indictments returned by the grand jury and it will not be known until after the arrests are made. It was intimated that more indictments could be expected when the grand jury again convenes, which will be Wednesday.

DELIVERY STARTS MONDAY

Central System is in Readiness for
for the Opening Here

The central delivery system will get under way here Monday. The city has been routed into five districts and there will be a wagon for each section. The goods will be gathered up by one wagon, taken to the central station and then routed. Deliveries will be made at eight and ten in the morning and two and four in the afternoon, with an extra one Saturday night at nine o'clock. There will be six wagons, on a special wagon to take Jersey City and the drivers will be: Don Casady, Harry Newhouse, Fred Brown, Ed Amos, Verl Behout and Frank Gilson, who will be the barn man and will drive the extra wagon.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Miller have moved from their farm to the south half of the Dillon property in Perkins street.

CARGO OF FLOUR STARTS

Word Received Here That Belgian
Relief is on Way.

C. G. Clark Sons have received a card containing a picture of the vessel, the South Point, which carried the Belgian relief fund flour raised through the agency of the Northwestern Miller, a trade paper, and to which fund the flour raised here by the Daily Republican and made at the Rush County Mills was contributed. The South Point set sail at Philadelphia February 11, day before yesterday. It was thought here that the flour had reached Rotterdam by this time as it was expected the vessel would leave soon after the first of the year.

THREE CASES ARE DISPOSED OF TODAY

Judge Sparks Also Hears Divorce

Suit of Jessie M. Ertle Against
John R. Ertle.

DAMAGE SUITS DISMISSED

Judge Sparks heard the divorce suit of Mrs. Jessie M. Ertle against John R. Ertle this morning and took it under advisement, stating that he would make a finding Monday. Mrs. Ertle alleged cruel and inhuman treatment and testified that he struck her on numerous occasions. Mr. Ertle did not appear in court although represented by an attorney. Mrs. Ertle asked that her maiden name of Jessie Posey be restored.

The two big damage suits against Frank Spilman sent here from Fayette county on a change of venue were dismissed at the costs of the plaintiffs. Myrtle M. Smith and John F. Smith. Mrs. Smith demanded $10,000 in her suit and her husband demanded $5,000.

The court found for Hugh R. Smith against Clifford Smith in the sum of $121.55. The case was on a note demanding $150.

The defendant in the divorce suit of Ione Brown against Clifton Brown defaulted and the prosecutor was ordered to appear.

JAMES GORDON, 85
YEARS OLD, DIESProminent Farmer of Washington
Township Dies in Physicians
Arms While Joking.

HIS DEATH IS VERY SUDDEN

James Gordon, 85 years old, a well known resident of Washington township, died last night at nine o'clock at the home of his son, Frank Gordon, near Raleigh. Mr. Gordon's death was sudden and was probably caused by gastritis. He was ill yesterday and last night called Dr. C. L. Smullen. He was joking with Dr. Smullen and did not appear to be seriously ill, when he suddenly gasped and died in the physician's arms.

Mr. Gordon was a native of Fayette county but had lived in Washington township for many years. He was a member of the Masonic lodge. His wife died some years ago. He is survived by four children, Frank, Lewis and Oscar Gordon and Mrs. Edwin Morris, of Troy Ohio. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

PICTURES VARIED
CAREER OF ZOLAMrs. Demarchus C. Brown Extols
Late French Novelist For What he Accomplished For His Race.

RECALLS THE DREYFUS CASE

Says France Was Broad Enough to Recognize What he Did and
Now he Lies in Pantheon.

Zola, the great French novelist, said that some day France would thank him for saving her honor by standing ever by right and justice, according to Mrs. Demarchus C. Brown, who lectured on Zola at the Graham school assembly room last night, and she added that France was big enough to admit what Zola had accomplished and today he lies beside Victor Hugo in the Pantheon.

Mrs. Brown pictured Zola as the friend of the oppressed. He was intensely human, she said, and there was always a good social message in all of his novels. In writing of the poor and unfortunate, he always brings out that all people are made of good material but the less fortunate had no chance, Mrs. Brown declared.

The lecturer asserted that one novel Zola was the greatest temperance sermon ever written and that in another Dante's hell is no comparison to the one he pictures. Mrs. Brown said that Zola always wanted to show that between the happy, fortunate, contented people and the poor, oppressed, unfortunate ones there is a wall our weak efforts can not tear down. In another novel he discusses prostitution openly, Mrs. Brown recalled, and in that he combines all our faults.

Mrs. Brown came stoutly to the defense of Zola. He remembered that some people said Zola was immoral and had asked if he could not have shown us the world's faults without having been so indecent about it? So many people have read only one novel of Zola's she said, and then based conclusions on that.

"If you read all he ever wrote," she continued, "you will see the wonderful structure on which he worked and you will say that he may have been indecent but never immoral. The romanticist who paints a glamour about sin and makes it look attractive is much more dangerous. One of Hal Caine's novels was called immoral. He said: 'Any book is immoral that does not tell the truth,' and I think that fits Zola's case."

Zola showed that a house built upon the sand can not stand and applied it to France's so-called second empire, Mrs. Brown said. His second series is known as the three cities. In upbuilding France, he showed new ideals are needed—that faith, hope and charity have failed, declared Mrs. Brown. In his three novels of the second series, Mrs. Brown said, a priest is the central figure and in this character is depicted how faith, hope and charity are failures. In the third city, Mrs. Brown asserted, Zola turns poet-idealists—to paint you the world as he believes it should be.

The last group of his novels is known as the Four Evangelists, Mrs. Brown said, and the four sons of Zola are the heroes of the group. In these, Mrs. Brown pointed out, Zola holds that the four basic structures for society are fecundity, truth, work and justice.

Mrs. Brown declared Zola proved to the world his sincerity by his stand for the truth, regardless of the cost, in the Alfred Dreyfus case.

JUDGE SPARKS
EXTOLS LINCOLNSpeaks at Knights of Columbus Observance of the Birthday of the Emancipator.

BRIEF HISTORY OF HIS LIFE

Says he Knows of no Better or Greater Man we Could Follow
in Public and Private Life.

Judge Will M. Sparks delivered an excellent address on Abraham Lincoln last night at the Knights of Columbus hall the meeting being open to the public and held in commemoration of Lincoln's birthday. A crowd that packed the hall heard the address. A short talk was also made by the Rev. M. W. Lyons and John Geraghty introduced Judge Sparks.

Judge Sparks gave a brief history of the life of Lincoln and compared the traits and ideals of Lincoln to those of the present day. Judge Sparks scored the partisan methods of today and pointed out that in Lincoln's cabinet the majority of the members were Democrats.

The speaker declared that the people of today would do well to follow the policies and traits of Abraham Lincoln in private and political life. He stated that Lincoln was after efficiency in the government service and that politics did not enter into his appointment.

"I know of no better or greater man whom we could follow today in public and private life and whose teachings were as near perfect than Abraham Lincoln," said Judge Sparks.

Judge Sparks stated that the tendency today was towards partisan methods in appointments and that efficiency many times was lost sight of a desire to satisfy some personal or greedy desire. Judge Sparks declared that much of the success of Lincoln as president was due to his broadness of mind in making appointments and his ability as a statesman.

Judge Sparks held the attention of his audience throughout the address. The observance by the Knights of Columbus of Lincoln's birthday was the only public observance in the city and Judge Sparks was given an enthusiastic reception.

CRASHES INTO A BUGGY

Hiff Staples' Rig Hits Another and Four Are Thrown Out.

Hiff Staples, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Staples of near Richland, was painfully hurt last night when he was thrown from the buggy in which he and Miss Elenor Lampton, of Milroy, were riding. They were returning from a party, and the night being very dark, failed to see the rig in front of them which contained Clyde Martin and Norma Nordmyer. The Staples rig crashed into the other buggy and all the occupants of the two rigs were thrown out, but the Staples boy was the only one hurt. His injuries consisted of bruises about the head.

Rich Reed has bought the W. C. Mauzy property in North Perkins street and will move into it soon.

COMPLICATES SITUATION

American Protest Will Not be Answered by Germans Soon.

(By United Press.)
Berlin, (By Wireless,) Feb. 13.—It is admitted that the German foreign office considers the American note protesting against the submarine blockade has greatly complicated the international situation. The belief is that the American demand has greatly embarrassed the imperial government and that it will have to be made the subject of a cabinet meeting. No reply will be made at present.

GERMANY WARNS
SHE WILL RETALIATE

Unfavorable Outcome of Wilhelmina

Prize Court Case Will Bring
Prompt Action From Kaiser.

IS NOT TO BE STARVED OUT

(By United Press.)
Washington, Feb. 13.—The government was advised this afternoon that an unfavorable outcome of the Wilhelmina foodstuffs case now up to a British prize court will bring German retaliation against England in which the United States may suffer commercially. The German ambassador bore the warning to Secretary Bryan and Counsellor Lansing while he refused to discuss the case, it became known that he suggested it would be to the interest of the United States to speak favorably of the prize court action. The department was told flatly that the kaiser will not stand for England's plan to starve out Germany's civil population and this government was warned that the world may expect the strongest kind of retaliation. The ambassador hinted, too, that American commerce might suffer in the retaliation. He suggested that the United States ought not to acquiesce in the Wilhelmina seizure and that this government should continue insistent on its position against allowing English commerce to hide behind the American flag.

APPRAISED VALUE
TO BE INCREASEDCounty Assessor Tells Township Assessors Today of Decision
Reached at District Meeting.

TO EQUALIZE THE TAXATION

The land in Rush county may be taxed at a rate ten per cent. higher this year than in former years. One thing is certain the land will be taxed higher more fully to equalize taxation, but it may not reach the ten per cent increase. This was one of the purposes of the meeting of the township assessors today with County Assessor Henry Schrader.

Mr. Schrader returned from Indianapolis where he attended a meeting of the county assessors from this district with the state tax commissioner. The idea prevailed at the meeting that land in the state was not taxed anywhere near its true value and many of the county assessors favored a ten per cent increase. This word was given to the township assessor at the meeting here today.

Another meeting will be held soon and something definite decided. The state tax commissioner will call Mr. Schrader to Indianapolis as soon as he has received the opinion of the majority regarding the increase.

tion Question as T. T. Advises.

TO LEAVE IT TO THE VOTERS

No Harmony at Senate Cause, it
Leaks Out Today—Bills to Abolish Office Not Approved.

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Feb. 13.—The United Press today obtained from a leader of the Senate Democrats the program for next week. It includes:

Disposing of the direct primary matter along the lines outlined by Thomas Taggart—submitting a primary bill to the voters in 1916.

Farming of a new workman's compensation law, a compromise between the labor and employers' bills.

Shaping of a registration law, allowing permanent registration in all precincts whether urban or rural.

Senator VanNuys will introduce a new bill limiting the hours of woman labor, it is said giving limits of 10 and 54 hours.

As members of the assembly gathered today for the closing session of the week, the facts of last night's caucus of the senate majority leaked out one by one. The caucus was troubled; there was no harmony. The caucus voted on each of the half-dozen bills abolishing and consolidating state offices, and not one received a majority.

"We positively did not decide to get behind the grouse library bill. What we did favor was the consolidation of the forestry, entomology and geology departments in the state house."

This was the definite statement today of an influential Democrat who attended the caucus of senate Democrats yesterday afternoon.

Least popular of all was the Grube bill abolishing the office of John A. Lapp, chief of the bureau of legislative information. Though Grube made a fight for his bill on the grounds of economy, there appeared such an army of friends of Lapp that it was evident early there was little chance of displacing him.

Other state officials had less of a following, and everyone wanted to abolish somebody.

The caucus seemed more of a unit on the question of whether offices should be consolidated at Purdue university. There was a general feeling, it was said today, that Purdue should devote itself to education and should not be given executive power.

Making the Horse Drink

"You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink."

Manufacturers might rewrite this to read: "You can stock up a retailer, but you can't make him sell goods his customers do not want."

They may also add that they will have difficulty in repeating the stocking up process.

Retailers depend for profit on goods that move. This is the kind they push—their stores are not museums.

Retailers are interested in goods advertised in their home newspapers because they feel the demand at their counters.

They are moving with the wishes of their customers when they push newspaper advertised goods.

Senator From Lebanon Says Air and Ventilation in State House is Very Bad

TO INTRODUCE RESOLUTION

Would Authorize Governor to Use Money From Emergency Fund to Make Needed Repairs

LEGISLATORS VS BAD AIR

 * The following table shows * reports made by members of * Indiana legislatures following * the sessions since 1901. Others * may have suffered from the * bad air in the chambers and * not reported their illness:
 * 1901—One man died a year * later from tuberculosis. Many * times he said he contracted the * disease in the senate chamber.
 * 1903—One senator, three * representatives in bed sick * with the gripe.
 * 1905—Two representatives * in bed sick from poor ventilation.
 * 1907—Two senators; two * representatives sick abed.
 * 1909—One senator sick, * but "on his feet."
 * 1911—Eight senators and * representatives sick.
 * *****
 (By United Press.)
 Indianapolis, Feb. 13.—Thomas L. Neal, the "life insurance senator" from Lebanon, introduced a joint resolution calling for proper heating and ventilation of the senate and house chambers before the next session of the legislature two years hence.

The board of public buildings and property is authorized to procure the services of a sanitary engineer to investigate the situation and determine the cost of installing a satisfactory heating plant and ventilation system.

The Governor is authorized to use money from the emergency contingent fund in making the investigation. The board of public buildings is authorized to go ahead before the next session and install the heating and ventilating plant.

The measure is much more important than originally intended. To heat and ventilate the entire state-house properly would entail a large sum of money. Neal, it is said, has been canvassing both houses extensively and believes that he has much sentiment in favor of his resolution.

This sentiment is also being created by an epidemic of colds and grip among the legislators springing from the poor ventilation. The air in the chambers is very oppressive. Few unaccustomed to it fail to remark on the impurity apparent on entering. It is impossible to change the air over night.

It is understood Neal expects a special appropriation to cover the expense of installing the heating and ventilating plant.

Obituary.

Mazie Hawkins, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. McConnell, was born near Connersville in Fayette county, Nov. 28, 1872.

She was married to Sheridan Hawkins, April 4, 1891. The earlier part of their married life was spent in Cincinnati, where one son was born to them. Later they moved to Indianapolis where they have lived for eighteen years.

She was a member of the Morris street Christian church having joined during a revival meeting several years ago.

For nearly one year she had been a great sufferer. On last Sunday she was taken to the Methodist hospital to undergo an operation from which she never rallied, departing this life the morning of Jan. 27th to a better brighter world where life is eternal.

Many sweet traits of character were to be found in our dearly beloved friend. Always a lover of home, a faithful wife and a fond mother, a loving daughter and sister and always a true friend to those she loved. Her husband one son Clarence, mother and father, two sisters Minnie and Adah McConnell and many dear friends are left to mourn her loss, but our loss is her gain, for:

Now her home is far beyond the skies.

Where no storm clouds rise
 Where there are no troubles and pain

And where no tears ever come again.

Sunset and evening star
 And one clear call for me

And may there be no moaning of the bar,

When I put out to sea.

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,

Too full for sound or foam,
 When that which drew from out the boundless deep

Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
 And after that the dark;

And may there be no sadness of farewell,

When I embark;

For tho' from out our bourne of Time and Place

The flood may bear me far,

I hope to see my Pilot face to face
 When I have crost the bar. 289t1

$3000.00 FIRE PREVENTED

The House the Red Jacket Saved

Read This Letter:

"Several years ago I called on Lane & Evans to buy a pump and they almost forced me to buy one of your Fig. 28 Red Jacket Double-Acting Force Pumps and fifty feet of hose when I only intended to buy a cheap set length pump. Mr. Lane put up such strong argument on 'fire protection' that I followed his advice and bought the Fig. 28, little thinking that it would be of any service to me in that respect.

Shortly after the pump was installed, my barn caught fire and had it not been for this pump and hose and the thoughtfulness of Mrs. Barnett, my barn, house and all buildings on the place would have been destroyed."

MUNICIPAL STORE PROVES A SUCCESS

Works Two Ways for Charity Bundle Plan Being Basis for Fon Cincinnati Venture.

GARMENTS AVERAGE 14 CENTS

(By United Press.) Cincinnati, Feb. 13.—A municipal "department store" working two ways for charity was today voted an established success here. As a result hundreds of Cincinnati's poor are today wearing twenty-five cent shoes, five cent coats, twenty-five cent overcoats, fifty cents suits of clothes and other apparel which they avoided charity by buying and paying for like ordinary folks in ordinary department stores.

The municipal department store is conducted by the city's "bundle day" committee. Worn clothing is gathered from the residence districts. It is then taken to "municipal workshops" where "unemployed" men and women are paid a decent wage to mend and put it in presentable condition. The next step is the "department store." Garments are sold at minimum prices to the needy. But none but the needy need apply for "permits to buy" are issued after due investigation of each applicant.

The municipal "department store" profited $1817.67 or an average of fourteen cents on each garment in three days. This money was used to pay $1472.18 to "unemployed menders" in the "municipal workshop." The balance represented "cash on hand" for future operation.

NEW JERSEY READY TO BACK WILSON

Headquarters Already Open, With Purpose of Boosting Woodrow for Second Term

IN VIEW OF STATE CAPITOL

(By United Press.) Trenton, N. J., Feb. 13.—Although President Wilson may not have meant to "start anything" with respect to a second term when he said in his Indianapolis speech that the people might later on have an opportunity to render a decision on his FIGHTS DEVIL WITH FIRE Cleveland, Feb. 14.—Fighting the devil with fire is the idea of Rev. A. S. Gregg, secretary of the American Civic Reform league, a widely known prohibitionist.

Mr. Gregg figures that a morning eye-opener and a night cap are perfectly permissible—but the drink's the thing. So he has invented a brew, which he says will do the work.

It's ingredients are honey, lemon juice, spring water, cap-sium, tea—for that bracing effect—and oil of peppermint.

accomplishments, the Democracy of New Jersey certainly has started out with the single purpose of accomplishing that which the President dis-
"The State Committee prior to the fall election took quarters here in a building on West State not far from the Capitol and past which all the politicians must go on their way to the seat of the State government.

The purpose of establishing these quarters last fall was not for the purpose of issuing campaign literature and helping keep New Jersey in line in 1914 so much as it was to begin the fight that the Democrats of the State intend making in 1916 to return Woodrow Wilson to the President's chair. So whether or not the President's remarks at Indianapolis recently bore the significance that some gave them, New Jersey has already taken the initiative in this matter. True there is not over much activity in the committee's offices here at present, just a stenographer or two handling the mail, but in the windows hang pictures of the President, so that "he who runs may read" the purpose of the establishment to be re-nomination and re-election of Woodrow Wilson in 1916 as President of the United States.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring back color, thickness and lustre—Everybody is using it again.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold. Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Where Psychology Fails

While making an address before the American Railway association convention in Washington several days ago President Wilson made the rather quaint remark that "enterprise has been checked in this country for almost twenty years," almost as quaint, in fact, as that celebrated utterance in his Indianapolis speech that "the Republican party had not had a new idea in thirty years."

But Republicans in congress were not long to give response to the remark of the president. Senator Jones, of the state of Washington, took occasion the other day to reply and his forceful speech, backed by some figures, shows that when psychology is face to face with statistics, it fails.

After quoting the president's language with respect to the "checking of enterprise," Jones said:

"That statement forcibly illustrates the remarkable mental process of the president and his utter obliviousness to actual facts. It is a clear unambiguous statement as a fact of what every man, woman and child knows is not a fact. He is most unfortunate in the period selected. Within that period it can be shown conclusively that enterprise was actually checked while his party was in power and that it has been moving forward with amazing strides during the remainder of that period."

By way of providing assertion Mr. Jones then submitted these figures relative to the business of the country for the period referred to:

"Foreign commerce—In 1889 exports aggregated $742,401,000; in 1893 $847,665,000, an increase of $105,264,000. Imports in 1889, $745,131,000; in 1893, $886,400,000 an increase of $140,269,000.

"By 1896, after three years of Democratic administration, exports increased only $34,941,000, while imports had decreased $6,676,000. In 1913, which marks the close of an uninterrupted period of Republican policies and legislation, American exports had increased $1,583,278,000, and imports had increased $1,033,284,000.

"Bank deposits—From 1889 to 1893 deposits in national banks increased $114,624,000. In 1896 the increase for three Democratic years was only $111,652,000. By 1913 national bank deposits had increased $4,285,045,000. Total deposits in all banks from 1889 to 1893 showed an increase of $850,813,000. By 1896 the increase was only $317,901,000 under Democratic policies. By 1913 the increase aggregated $12,537,220,000.

"Manufacturing industry—In 1890 the value of products of American manufacture was $9,372,378,000. By 1900, after a period including four years of Democratic rule, this value increased only $2,034,548,000. By 1910, after ten years of uninterrupted Republican rule, the increase amounted to $9,265,125,000. Wages showed a corresponding fluctuation.

"In 1912," went on Mr. Jones, "railroad mileage was 258,033, passengers carried 1,004,081,000, and freight 1,844,977,000 tons at .744 cents a ton per mile, or an increase in mileage of 71,352, and of passengers carried 492,308,000 and of freight 1,091,261,000 at a decrease of .162 cents a ton per mile. Yet the president says: 'Enterprise has been checked for 20 years.' Does he really mean it, or was he chuckling when he said it?"

PICTURES VARIED CAREER OF ZOLA

This celebrated case is recalled by many persons now because of the prominence it was given in the newspapers in the United States.

Dreyfus, who was a French artillery officer, was found guilty of selling military papers to the French embassy and was imprisoned on Ile du Diable (Devil's Island.) Zola who was then preparing another novel, interested himself in the case. He investigated it thoroughly and then published a long article in an unheard of newspaper which had nothing to lose. He accused those guilty of imposing a sentence on an innocent man and showed the papers to prove his guilt had been forged.

Zola was arrested and found guilty of libel and fled to England. While living there in obscurity and under assumed names, he wrote Fecundity, which Mrs. Brown said, was to give France a new conception of parenthood. Later Dreyfus was retried and condemned by being immediately pardoned. He pleaded to be sentenced if guilty, and if not, to be set free by the jury. Mrs. Brown recalled, but the ruling stood and a general amnesty was declared for all those in the case. This gave Zola the privilege of returning to France.

In 1906, Mrs. Brown said Dreyfus was declared innocent, Zola's char-

What the German-Americans Are Organizing For

In this week's issue of THE LITERARY DIGEST (Feb. 13th, on sale to-day), there is an article which fully describes the organization activities of the German-Americans in the United States—who and what the organizers and the organizations are, and what they are trying to accomplish. This article clearly reflects public opinion regarding this very grave and newest development of the war and is of great interest to the American public, who will want to know:

- Whether this movement will influence America's neutrality attitude;*
- Whether its activities will be directed for or against political candidates for office;*
- What effect it will have in connection with the next Presidential campaign;*
- Whether or not such a plan of organizing sentiment will react upon those responsible for promulgating it.*

Not only does THE LITERARY DIGEST cover the Great War in the most unbiased and reliable way, reprinting striking cartoons, photographs, and documents, opinions of leading men and women actually engaged in the conflict; but all other important topics that vitally concern mankind throughout the world are dwelt upon. Foreign and Domestic Politics, Invention, Science, Commerce, Literature, Religion, Art, Music, and Drama—all the news in these spheres of activity is presented for the information of THE DIGEST'S million readers.

ges in his original article having been proved true, but Zola did not live to see his cause triumph. When he was preparing to write another novel, "Justice," fate intervened. Mrs. Brown said. He was asphyxiated. A motley crowd followed him to his grave. Mrs. Brown said, in token of what he had done for the oppressed, although his dreams had been to be buried surrounded only by a few of his intimate friends in a quiet country graveyard.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder is troubling you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

FANNY CROSBY SUCCEUMBS

Famous Hymn Writer Dies at Age of 95 Years

(By United Press.)

Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 12.—Fanny Crosby, blind, and a famous hymn writer, died here yesterday at her home. She was 95 years old. Mrs. Crosby, whose real name was Mrs. Alexander M. Alstyne, had been growing feeble for several months and her death was not unexpected. She continued writing hymns, however, until a few days ago. Her nephew, Henry D. Booth, and other family members, were at her bedside when death came.

DIRECT SLAP AT FRATERNITY

Many Persons Think Release of Reulbach by Ebbets Was Knock at Players' Organization

WAS ACTIVE IN THIS BODY

His Passing Marks Further Disintegration of Famous Old Cub Machine—Remarkable Record

BY HAL SHERIDAN
(Written for United Press.)

New York, Feb. 13.—In the unconditional release of "Big Ed" Reulbach by President Charley Ebbets of the Brooklyn Dodgers many person interested in baseball politics profess to see a direct slap at the Players' Fraternity. They also profess to sight in Ebbets' action a general policy that is to be adopted by all magnates toward players who became to active in the ranks of the "Union."

Reulbach is secretary of the Fraternity and with his former team mate, Jake Daubert, was one of the most active men in Dave Fultz's organization. "Big Ed" will be remembered as one of the committee that represented the players' claims to the National Commission last winter, and he also was one of the leading figures in the threatened strike in the Kraft case last season. He was one of the very first to announce he would walk out. And he had the support of his team-mates in the announcement.

In explaining why he had released the veteran, Ebbets said he did so on advice of Manager Robinson, who thought several recruits could do more and better work. He also said that Reulbach's last season's record was partly responsible.

While the old Cub star was not a howling success last year he did more work than he has done since 1908. His record shows he worked in forty-four games, winning eleven and dropping eighteen. He allowed 2.64 earned runs a game, which is not an awfully bad showing. When one takes into consideration that the Dodgers did not stand very high in the percentage table when the curtain rang down on the season his record doesn't look so rotten—at least not "unconditionally" rotten. Only one Brooklyn pitcher, Jeff Pfeffer, had a better record.

Reulbach probably will hook up with a Federal league team this season, as no organized team seems to be exactly pining for his services.

Reulbach's passing, if he has passed, marks the further disintegration, of the famous old Cub machine of the world's championship days.

Reulbach was one of the famous old trio, Overall-Brown-Reulbach, which was in those days what Rudolph, Tyler and James is now. Overall has just been released by the San Francisco club in the Coast league and it is said that Miner Brown is about to get the gate by the Feds. Frank Chance got his release and has retired to his orange groves, Johnny Kling has gone back to his billiard emporium, Jimmy Sheppard, who last year managed the Cleveland American Association club, has been released; Harry Steinfield died last summer and Artie Hoffman is now with the Brooklyn Feds.

Reulbach came to the Dodgers in the season of 1913 when Johnny Evers, then manager of the Cubs, traded him for pitcher, Eddie Stack. In 1906-7-8 "Big Ed" was one of the best hurlers in the business. With Overall and Brown he pitched the Cubs to several pennants and world's championships.

His best year was in 1906 when he worked in 34 games, winning 19 and dropping 4.

AN OVERTIME GAME.

The Milroy Earekas defeated the Fairview All Stars at Milroy last night, 28 to 24. The score was tied, 22 to 22, at the end of the second half, and Milroy outpointed its opponents in the five minutes overtime play. They will clash again at Fairview next Thursday evening.

MADISON IS AGAIN BEATEN BY LOCALS

Rushville Takes Hard Fought Game

There Last Night by Score of 17 to 11.

LEAD 6 TO 4 IN FIRST HALF

(Special to the Daily Republican.)

Madison, Ind., Feb. 13.—The Rushville high school team defeated the Madison team here last night in one of the fastest games ever played on the local floor. The final score was 17 to 11. The game was close throughout and it was not until the last few minutes of play that the Rushville team was able to get a lead that Madison could not overcome.

Titsworth and Martin of the Rushville team were the stars of the contest and their work was the best seen on the Madison floor this season. The game was very hard fought, the first half ending 6 to 4 in favor of Rushville. Madison came back strong and for a short time took the lead, then Rushville started all over again and forged ahead. The Rushville team made a total of seven field goals and three foul goals. The work of the guards on both teams were especially good, thus accounting for the small score.

CARTHAGE BEATS MOSCOW

High School Quintet Wins Friday

Night By Score, 25 to 23

The Carthage high school basketball team won from the Moscow high school five at Carthage last night, 25 to 23, in what was declared to be the fastest and hardest fought game of the year for Carthage. This was the eighth victory for the Carthage quintet this season. They have lost only three games. At the end of the first half last night the score stood 12 to 11 in favor of Moscow. Pierce and Hill were the bright and particular stars for Carthage and Harcourt and Owens were the best men with the visitors.

In the curtain-raiser, the Carthage third team won from the Knightstown third team, 36 to 1.

AN ATTACK FROM THE AIR

Germans Attempt to Destroy Verdun Fortress With Bombs

(By United Press.)

Paris, Feb. 13.—The Germans today made an attempt to demolish the military depots of Verdun from the air. A squadron of ten aeroplanes flew across the fortress and dropped bombs, but according to the latest word, their efforts were unsuccessful.

The fighting in the north from La-Bassee to the sea is increasing in intensity. The Germans violently attacked the Belgian-French positions at Nieuport but were repulsed with heavy losses. They also tried to carry the French trenches commanding the sand dunes but failed there. German artillery is now shelling the French positions at Ypres.

CONNERSVILLE LOST.

The Shelbyville high school team swamped the Connersville team last night winning by the one-sided score of 53 to 14. Shelbyville got revenge for the defeat at the hand of Connersville a few weeks ago.

TILLAGE WILL HELP

Roll the wheatfield as soon as it will bear a team upon it. Follow this rolling immediately with a light harrowing. Better use a "weeder" if you have one. If you have a harrow with adjustable teeth, throw the teeth back at an angle of 45 degrees and harrow the field, going back and forth parallel with the wheat rows. This harrowing will not injure the wheat roots, but will break up the crust and make a surface mulch. This surface mulch will prevent much evaporation and save thousands of barrels of water. If you do not happen to have a roller, or if you do not think it wise to roll the wheat, harrow just the same. It pays.

Plantfood Makes Crops

The tiny wheat plant must have special nourishment. It must have a liberal supply of readily available plant-food of the right kind to maintain it in vigorous growth. Big crops demand enormous quantities of plant-food. The biggest help you can give your wheat crop is to apply 100 pounds per acre of Swift's Steamed Bone and Potash, analyzing 2 per cent Ammonia, 8 per cent available Phosphoric Acid, and 2 per cent Potash. This should be broadcasted or distributed on the wheat through the fertilizer attachment of the wheat drill, with the line spreader, or other fertilizer distributor. If the wheat drill is used, leave the discs suspended so that they will not cut the wheat plants. Apply this fertilizer before the field is rolled. Harrowing it will work it into the soil where the roots make best use of the plant-food. You can carry on these operations until the wheat is up 4 inches in height without injury to the crop. Fertilizer feeds the crop. It contains no weed seeds.

Help For Grass and Clover Seeding

If grass and clover seed is sown upon the wheat field in early Spring, this early cultivation will bury the seed sufficiently deep to insure good germination. The addition of available plant-food in the forms mentioned, will greatly increase the chances of a successful "catch of grass."

By such treatment, weak wheat will be greatly benefitted and materially assisted towards a profitable yield of superior quality of grain. Top dressing pays. Try it on your Oats and double the yield.

FLOUR IS 10 CENTS LOWER HERE TODAY

With Wheat Showing Net Loss of Over Five Cents in Chicago Today, Price Declines.

FARMERS EXPECTED TO SELL

Due to a net loss for May wheat of five and one quarter cents on the Chicago stock exchange today, the Rush County Mills notified Rushville dealers today that the price of their flour was ten cents lower. May wheat at Chicago today was fourteen cents below the recent high mark established during the present flurry in wheat. It closed in Chicago today at $1.54 1/2 cents. July wheat showed a net loss of five cents closing at $1.29 7/8. May corn closed at 79 1/2 cents, a net loss of five-eighths of a cent, and July at .81 cents, a loss of three-quarters of a cent. May oats closed at .60 3/8 cents and July at .60 5/8 cents, both a loss.

The rapid decline in the price of wheat is expected to cause many farmers who have been holding their wheat in hope of higher prices to throw it on the market for fear that the highest price has been reached and the bottom is now falling out of the market. Wheat was quoted at $1.45 a bushel here today. One farmer is reported to have sold a thousand bushels here this week for $1.58 new high mark for Rushville.

BILL ATTRACTS WIDE ATTENTION

Measure to Force Change of Venue Whenever Demanded Will Probably be Brought to Vote.

WHAT FRIENDS SAY FOR IT

Opponents of Measure Declare it is Aimed at Judge Collins in Marion County.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Feb. 13.—Senator Elsner (Dem.) of Seymour said today that his bill No. 181, which applies to every county in the state and has attracted wide attention, would probably be brought to a vote in the senate early next week, possibly Monday. The bill would force circuit or criminal court in every county to allow change of venue from the county in criminal cases.

Friends of the bill say it is desired by labor and gives justice to alleged criminals. Opponents of the bill say it is directed solely at Judge Collins of the Marion criminal court, who is on the opposite side of the political fence from Mayor Bell's administration. They add that it would cost the counties an enormous aggregate sum, annually.

This bill probably will bring one of the prettiest fights of the session. Fremont C. Alford, former judge of the Marion county criminal court, fired today one of the opening guns in the fight when he declared that this bill if enacted would cost the state through its counties an aggregate sum of 2,000,000 annually. Former Senator Stotsenberg has been quoted as making the same statement.

These men point out that the county from which the change is taken would have to bear the entire expense of the trial in the adjoining county.

Senator Elsner gave the United Press his argument against this today. He said it would not cost the average county more than $50 annually. He said that when changes were taken, the court granting the change would have more time for other cases, and that it didn't matter much whether the cost was paid to an adjoining county or to the local court.

Elsner brought up John O'Meara, a Monon conductor who represents the order of railroad conductors. O'Meara said labor was for the bill because it would give laborers a chance when they were brought before an unfriendly judge.

Two clauses of the bill are especially significant. They are quoted:

"Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the state of Indiana that the court in term or the judge thereof in vacation shall change the venue of any criminal action upon the application of either state or the defendant made upon the affidavit showing one or more of the following excuses:

"Third, That the opposite party has an undue influence over the citizens of the county, or that an odium attaches to the applicant, or to the defense or prosecution, on account of local prejudice."

"Sixth, When either party shall make and file an affidavit of the bias, prejudice, or interest of the judge before whom the said prosecution is pending."

The bill would repeal two sections (203 and 207) of the act concerning public offenses, approved March 10, 1905. They concern change of venue, and one leaves it to the discretion of the judge whether to grant a change of venue from the county when the affidavit is founded on excitement of prejudice in the county against the defendant, except when the life of the defendant is at stake, when the court must grant the change.

Delivery By Schedule vs The Old Haphazard Way

We are independent, also progressive. After watching the operations of union delivery service in other cities, after writing many letters and talking to many people from towns where they have such service we are more than glad to have the opportunity for giving our customers the same kind of service.

Every woman in Rushville knows just when to expect the postman with the mail. With the Benson system in operation the grocery order will come in the same prompt way.

Which is the better, to know exactly when to expect an order, or to have it delivered in maybe ten minutes or maybe two hours after ordering?

As to the sanitary feature, the central station, according to our contract must be kept as clean as any store in town and probably will be cleaner than some. Covered wagons with double decks will be used and orders will be handled in a more sanitary manner than when piled in an open wagon.

We leave it to the judgment of our customers to decide which is the better.

TAYLOR BOYS FINED IN COURT

Chase Gets $10 and Costs and 30
Day Jail Sentence for Avoiding
Service of Grand Jury

IS INDICTED BY THAT BODY

Chester Fined $10 and Costs for
Assaulting Sheriff—Grand Jury
Adjourns Until Wednesday

Chase Taylor was fined $10 and costs and sentenced to thirty days in jail and his brother Chester Taylor was fined $10 and costs this morning by Judge Sparks in the circuit court. Chester paid his fine.

Chase Taylor was fined on an indictment returned by the grand jury late yesterday afternoon. This indictment is one of three returned by the grand jury when it adjourned to meet again next Wednesday. He was charged in the indictment with avoiding the service of a grand jury subpoena. Chester Taylor was fined for assault and battery on Sheriff Cavitt, the charge being made in an affidavit filed in circuit court.

It will be remembered that Monday of this week the sheriff had trouble with the Taylor boys when he attempted to serve grand jury subpoenas on them. Chester Taylor went before the grand jury and testified, but when Sheriff Cavitt attempted to get Chase he avoided the officer and then when the sheriff did get service on him he resisted and Chester came to the assistance of his brother. It was during this trouble that he struck Sheriff Cavitt.

Chase Taylor was given a severe lecture by the court. He was told that the grand jury was a part of the circuit court and the court would not stand to see that body made light of, and gave the boy to understand that a second offense would be dealt with in a stern manner. The court did not ask either of the boys to enter pleas and gave them the privilege of consulting an attorney but both stated that they were guilty as charged.

The fine and costs in the case of Chase Taylor and the jail sentence combined means he will be in jail for a period of 30 days.

It is not known who is involved in the other two indictments returned by the grand jury and it will not be known until after the arrests are made. It was intimated that more indictments could be expected when the grand jury again convenes, which will be Wednesday.

DELIVERY STARTS MONDAY

Central System is in Readiness for
for the Opening Here

The central delivery system will get under way here Monday. The city has been routed into five districts and there will be a wagon for each section. The goods will be gathered up by one wagon, taken to the central station and then routed. Deliveries will be made at eight and ten in the morning and two and four in the afternoon, with an extra one Saturday night at nine o'clock. There will be six wagons, on a special wagon to take Jersey City and the drivers will be: Don Casady, Harry Newhouse, Fred Brown, Ed Amos, Verl Behout and Frank Gilson, who will be the barn man and will drive the extra wagon.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Miller have moved from their farm to the south half of the Dillon property in Perkins street.

The South Point set sail at Philadelphia February 11, day before yesterday. It was thought here that the flour had reached Rotterdam by this time as it was expected the vessel would leave soon after the first of the year.

THREE CASES ARE DISPOSED OF TODAY

Judge Sparks Also Hears Divorce
Suit of Jessie M. Ertle Against
John R. Ertle.

DAMAGE SUITS DISMISSED

Judge Sparks heard the divorce suit of Mrs. Jessie M. Ertle against John R. Ertle this morning and took it under advisement, stating that he would make a finding Monday. Mrs. Ertle alleged cruel and inhuman treatment and testified that he struck her on numerous occasions. Mr. Ertle did not appear in court although represented by an attorney. Mrs. Ertle asked that her maiden name of Jessie Posey be restored.

The two big damage suits against Frank Spilman sent here from Fayette county on a change of venue were dismissed at the costs of the plaintiffs. Myrtle M. Smith and John F. Smith, Mrs. Smith demanded $10,000 in her suit and her husband demanded $5,000.

The court found for Hugh R. Smith against Clifford Smith in the sum of $121.55. The case was on a note demanding $150.

The defendant in the divorce suit of Ione Brown against Clifford Brown defaulted and the prosecutor was ordered to appear.

JAMES GORDON, 85 YEARS OLD, DIES

Prominent Farmer of Washington
Township Dies in Physicians
Arms While Joking.

HIS DEATH IS VERY SUDDEN

James Gordon, 85 years old, a well known resident of Washington township, died last night at nine o'clock at the home of his son, Frank Gordon, near Raleigh. Mr. Gordon's death was sudden and was probably caused by gastritis. He was ill yesterday and last night called Dr. C. L. Smullen. He was joking with Dr. Smullen and did not appear to be seriously ill when he suddenly gasped and died in the physician's arms.

Mr. Gordon was a native of Fayette county but had lived in Washington township for many years. He was a member of the Masonic lodge. His wife died some years ago. He is survived by four children, Frank, Lewis and Oscar Gordon and Mrs. Edwin Morris, of Troy Ohio. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

PICTURES VARIED CAREER OF ZOLA

Mrs. Demarchus C. Brown Extols
Late French Novelist For What he Accomplished For His Race.

RECALLS THE DREYFUS CASE

Says France Was Broad Enough to Recognize What he Did and
Now he Lies in Pantheon.

Zola, the great French novelist, said that some day France would thank him for saving her honor by standing ever by right and justice, according to Mrs. Demarchus C. Brown, who lectured on Zola at the Graham school assembly room last night, and she added that France was big enough to admit what Zola had accomplished and today he lies beside Victor Hugo in the Pantheon.

Mrs. Brown pictured Zola as the friend of the oppressed. He was intensely human, she said, and there was always a good social message in all of his novels. In writing of the poor and unfortunate, he always brings out that all people are made of good material but the less fortunate had no chance, Mrs. Brown declared.

The lecturer asserted that one novel Zola was the greatest temperance sermon ever written and that in another Dante's hell is no comparison to the one he pictures. Mrs. Brown said that Zola always wanted to show that between the happy, fortunate, contented people and the poor, oppressed, unfortunate ones there is a wall our weak efforts can not tear down. In another novel he discusses prostitution openly, Mrs. Brown recalled, and in that he combines all our faults.

Mrs. Brown came stoutly to the defense of Zola. He remembered that some people said Zola was immoral and had asked if he could not have shown us the world's faults without having been so indecent about it? So many people have read only one novel of Zola's she said, and then based conclusions on that.

"If you read all he ever wrote," she continued, "you will see the wonderful structure on which he worked and you will say that he may have been indecent but never immoral. The romanticist who paints a glamour about sin and makes it look attractive is much more dangerous. One of Hail Caine's novels was called immoral. He said: 'Any book is immoral that does not tell the truth,' and I think that fits Zola's case."

Zola showed that a house built upon the sand can not stand and applied it to France's so-called second empire, Mrs. Brown said. His second series is known as the three cities. In upbuilding France, he showed new ideals are needed—that faith, hope and charity have failed, declared Mrs. Brown. In his three novels of the second series, Mrs. Brown said, a priest is the central figure and in this character is depicted how faith, hope and charity are failures. In the third city, Mrs. Brown asserted, Zola turns poet-idealists—to paint you the world as he believes it should be.

The last group of his novels is known as the Four Evangelists, Mrs. Brown said, and the four sons of Zola are the heroes of the group. In these, Mrs. Brown pointed out, Zola holds that the four basic structures for society are fecundity, truth, work and justice.

Mrs. Brown declared Zola proved to the world his sincerity by his stand for the truth, regardless of the cost, in the Alfred Dreyfus case.

JUDGE SPARKS EXTOLS LINCOLN

Speaks at Knights of Columbus Observance of the Birthday of the Emancipator.

BRIEF HISTORY OF HIS LIFE

Says he Knows of no Better or Greater Man we Could Follow
in Public and Private Life.

Judge Will M. Sparks delivered an excellent address on Abraham Lincoln last night at the Knights of Columbus hall the meeting being open to the public and held in commemoration of Lincoln's birthday. A crowd that packed the hall heard the address. A short talk was also made by the Rev. M. W. Lyons and John Geraghty introduced Judge Sparks.

Judge Sparks gave a brief history of the life of Lincoln and compared the traits and ideals of Lincoln to those of the present day. Judge Sparks scored the partisan methods of today and pointed out that in Lincoln's cabinet the majority of the members were Democrats.

The speaker declared that the people of today would do well to follow the policies and traits of Abraham Lincoln in private and political life. He stated that Lincoln was after efficiency in the government service and that politics did not enter into his appointment.

"I know of no better or greater man whom we could follow today in public and private life and whose teachings were as near perfect than Abraham Lincoln," said Judge Sparks.

Judge Sparks stated that the tendency today was towards partisan methods in appointments and that efficiency many times was lost sight of a desire to satisfy some personal or greedy desire. Judge Sparks declared that much of the success of Lincoln as president was due to his broadness of mind in making appointments and his ability as a statesman.

Judge Sparks held the attention of his audience throughout the address. The observance by the Knights of Columbus of Lincoln's birthday was the only public observance in the city and Judge Sparks was given an enthusiastic reception.

CRASHES INTO A BUGGY

Iliff Staples' Rig Hits Another and Four Are Thrown Out.

Iliff Staples, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Staples of near Richland, was painfully hurt last night when he was thrown from the buggy in which he and Miss Elenor Lampton, of Milroy, were riding. They were returning from a party, and the night being very dark, failed to see the rig in front of them which contained Clyde Martin and Norma Nordmyer. The Staples rig crashed into the other buggy and all the occupants of the two rigs were thrown out, but the Staples boy was the only one hurt. His injuries consisted of bruises about the head.

COMPLICATES SITUATION

American Protest Will Not be Answered by Germans Soon.

(By United Press.)
Berlin. (By Wireless.) Feb. 13.—It is admitted that the German foreign office considers the American note protesting against the submarine blockade has greatly complicated the international situation. The belief is that the American demand has greatly embarrassed the imperial government and that it will have to be made the subject of a cabinet meeting. No reply will be made at present.

GERMANY WARNS SHE WILL RETALIATE

Unfavorable Outcome of Wilhelmina
Prize Court Case Will Bring
Prompt Action From Kaiser.

IS NOT TO BE STARVED OUT

(By United Press.)
Washington, Feb. 13.—The government was advised this afternoon that an unfavorable outcome of the Wilhelmina food-stuffs case now up to a British prize court will bring German retaliation against England in which the United States may suffer commercially. The German ambassador bore the warning to Secretary Bryan and Counselor Lausung. While he refused to discuss the case, it became known that he suggested it would be to the interest of the United States to speak favorably of the prize court action. The department was told flatly that the Kaiser will not stand for England's plan to starve out Germany's civil population and this government was warned that the world may expect the strongest kind of retaliation. The ambassador hinted, too, that American commerce might suffer in the retaliation. He suggested that the United States ought not to acquiesce in the Wilhelmina seizure and that this government should continue insist on its position against allowing English commerce to hide behind the American flag.

APPRAISED VALUE TO BE INCREASED

County Assessor Tells Township Assessors Today of Decision
Reached at District Meeting.

TO EQUALIZE THE TAXATION

The land in Rush county may be taxed at a rate ten per cent, higher this year than in former years. One thing is certain the land will be taxed higher more fully to equalize taxation, but it may not reach the ten per cent increase. This was one of the purposes of the meeting of the township assessors today with County Assessor Henry Schrader.

Mr. Schrader returned from Indianapolis where he attended a meeting of the county assessors from this district with the state tax commissioner. The idea prevailed at the meeting that land in the state was not taxed anywhere near its true value and many of the county assessors favored a ten per cent increase. This word was given to the township assessor at the meeting here today.

Another meeting will be held soon and something definite decided. The state tax commissioner will call Mr. Schrader to Indianapolis as soon as he has received the opinion of the majority regarding the increase.

WILL FOLLOW TAGGART PLAN

Learned Today Legislature Majority Will Deal With Primary Election Question as T. T. Advises.

TO LEAVE IT TO THE VOTERS

No Harmony at Senate Cause, it
Leaks Out Today—Bills to Abolish Office Not Approved.

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Feb. 13.—The United Press today obtained from a leader of the Senate Democrats the program for next week. It includes:

Disposing of the direct primary matter along the lines outlined by Thomas Taggart—submitting a primary bill to the voters in 1916.

Forming of a new workman's compensation law, a compromise between the labor and employers' bills.

Shaping of a registration law, allowing permanent registration in all precincts whether urban or rural.

Senator VanNuys will introduce a new bill limiting the hours of woman labor, it is said giving limits of 10 and 54 hours.

As members of the assembly gathered today for the closing session of the week, the facts of last night's caucus of the senate majority leaked out one by one. The caucus was troubled; there was no harmony. The caucus voted on each of the half-dozen bills abolishing and consolidating state offices, and not one received a majority.

"We positively did not decide to get behind the group library bill. What we did favor was the consolidation of the forestry, entomology and geology departments in the state house."

This was the definite statement today of an influential Democrat who attended the caucus of senate Democrats yesterday afternoon.

Least popular of all was the Grube bill abolishing the office of John A. Lapp, chief of the bureau of legislative information. Though Grube made a fight for his bill on the grounds of economy, there appeared such an army of friends of Lapp that it was evident early there was little chance of displacing him.

Other state officials had less of a following, and everyone wanted to abolish somebody.

The caucus seemed more of a unit on the question of whether offices should be consolidated at Purdue university. There was a general feeling, it was said today, that Purdue should devote itself to education and should not be given executive power.

Making the Horse Drink

"You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink."

Manufacturers might rewrite this to read: "You can stock up a retailer, but you can't make him sell goods his customers do not want."

They may also add that they will have difficulty in repeating the stocking up process.

Retailers depend for profit on goods that move. This is the kind they push—their stores are not museums.

Retailers are interested in goods advertised in their home newspapers because they feel the demand at their counters.

They are moving with the wishes of their customers when they push newspaper advertised goods.

 (By United Press.)
 Indianapolis, Feb. 13.—Thomas L. Neal, the "life insurance senator" from Lebanon, introduced a joint resolution calling for proper heating and ventilation of the senate and house chambers before the next session of the legislature two years hence.

The board of public buildings and property is authorized to procure the services of a sanitary engineer to investigate the situation and determine the cost of installing a satisfactory heating plant and ventilation system.

The Governor is authorized to use money from the emergency contingent fund in making the investigation. The board of public buildings is authorized to go ahead before the next session and install the heating and ventilating plant.

The measure is much more important than originally intended. To heat and ventilate the entire state-house properly would entail a large sum of money. Neal, it is said, has been canvassing both houses extensively and believes that he has much sentiment in favor of his resolution.

This sentiment is also being created by an epidemic of colds and grip among the legislators springing from the poor ventilation. The air in the chambers is very oppressive. Few unaccustomed to it fail to remark on the impurity apparent on entering. It is impossible to change the air over night.

It is understood Neal expects a special appropriation to cover the expense of installing the heating and ventilating plant.

Obituary.

Mazie Hawkins, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. McConnell, was born near Connorsville in Fayette county, Nov. 28, 1872.

She was married to Sheridan Hawkins, April 4, 1891. The earlier part of their married life was spent in Cincinnati, where one son was born to them. Later they moved to Indianapolis where they have lived for eighteen years.

She was a member of the Morris street Christian church having joined during a revival meeting several years ago.

For nearly one year she had been a great sufferer. On last Sunday she was taken to the Methodist hospital to undergo an operation from which she never rallied, departing this life the morning of Jan. 27th to a better brighter world where life is eternal.

Many sweet traits of character were to be found in our dearly beloved friend. Always a lover of home, a faithful wife and a fond mother, a loving daughter and sister and always a true friend to those she loved. Her husband one son Clarence, mother and father, two sisters Minnie and Adah McConnell and many dear friends are left to mourn her loss, but our loss is her gain, for:

Now her home is far beyond the skies.

Where no storm clouds rise
 Where there are no troubles and pain
 And where no tears ever come again.

Sunset and evening star
 And one clear call for me
 And may there be no moaning of the bar,

When I put out to sea.

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,

Too full for sound or foam.

When that which drew from out the boundless deep

Turns again home,

Twilight and evening bell,

And after that the dark;

And may there be no sadness of farewell.

When I embark:

For tho' from out our bourne of Time and Place

The flood may bear me far,

I hope to see my Pilot face to face
 When I have crost the bar. 28911

$3000.00 FIRE PREVENTED

The House the Red Jacket Saved

Read This Letter:
 "Several years ago I called on Lane & Evans to buy a pump and they almost forced me to buy one of your Fig. 28 Red Jacket Double-Acting Force Pumps and fifty feet of hose when I only intended to buy a cheap set length pump. Mr. Lane put up such strong argument on 'fire protection' that I followed his advice and bought the Fig. 28, little thinking that it would be of any service to me in that respect.
 Shortly after the pump was installed, my barn caught fire and had it not been for this pump and hose and the thoughtfulness of Mrs. Barnett, my barn, house and all buildings on the place would have been destroyed."

MUNICIPAL STORE

PROVES A SUCCESS

Works Two Ways for Charity

Bundle Plan Being Basis for

Fon Cincinnati Venture.

GARMENTS AVERAGE 14 CENTS

(By United Press.)

Cincinnati, Feb. 13.—A municipal "department store" working two ways for charity was today voted an established success here. As a result hundreds of Cincinnati's poor are today wearing twenty-five cent shoes, five cent coats, twenty-five cent overcoats, fifty cents suits of clothes and other apparel which they avoided charity by buying and paying for like ordinary folks in ordinary department stores.

The municipal department store is conducted by the city's "bundle day" committee. Worn clothing is gathered from the residence districts. It is then taken to "municipal workshops" where "unemployed" men and women are paid a decent wage to mend and put it in presentable condition. The next step is the "department store." Garments are sold at minimum prices to the needy. But none but the needy need apply for "permits to buy" are issued after due investigation of each applicant.

The municipal "department store" profited $1817.67 or an average of fourteen cents on each garment in three days. This money was used to pay $1472.18 to "unemployed menders" in the "municipal workshop." The balance represented "cash on hand" for future operation.

IN VIEW OF STATE CAPITOL

(By United Press.)

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 13.—Although President Wilson may not have meant to "start anything" with respect to a second term when he said in his Indianapolis speech that the people might later on have an opportunity to render a decision on his

FIGHTS DEVIL WITH FIRE
Cleveland, Feb. 14.—Fighting the devil with fire is the idea of Rev. A. S. Gregg, secretary of the American Civic Reform league, a widely known prohibitionist.

Mr. Gregg figures that a morning eye-opener and a night cap are perfectly permissible—but the drink's the thing. So he has invented a brew, which he says will do the work.

It's ingredients are honey, lemon juice, spring water, cap-sicum, tea—for that bracing effect—and oil of peppermint.

accomplishments, the Democracy of New Jersey certainly has started out with the single purpose of accomplishing that which the President disapproved. The State Committee prior to the fall election took quarters here in a building on West State not far from the Capitol and past which all the politicians must go on their way to the seat of the State government.

The purpose of establishing these quarters last fall was not for the purpose of issuing campaign literature and helping keep New Jersey in line in 1914 so much as it was to begin the fight that the Democrats of the State intend making in 1916 to return Woodrow Wilson to the President's chair. So whether or not the President's remarks at Indianapolis recently bore the significance that some gave them, New Jersey has already taken the initiative in this matter. True there is not over much activity in the committee's offices here at present, just a stenographer or two handling the mail, but in the windows hang pictures of the President, so that "he who runs may read" the purpose of the establishment to be re-nomination and re-election of Woodrow Wilson in 1916 as President of the United States.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring back color, thickness and lustre. Everybody is using it again.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold. Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Where Psychology Fails

While making an address before the American Railway association convention in Washington several days ago President Wilson made the rather quaint remark that "enterprise has been checked in this country for almost twenty years," almost as quaint, in fact, as that celebrated utterance in his Indianapolis speech that "the Republican party had not had a new idea in thirty years."

But Republicans in congress were not long to give response to the remark of the president. Senator Jones, of the state of Washington, took occasion the other day to reply and his forceful speech, backed by some figures, shows that when psychology is face to face with statistics, it fails.

After quoting the president's language with respect to the "checking of enterprise," Jones said:

"That statement forcibly illustrates the remarkable mental process of the president and his utter obliviousness to actual facts. It is a clear unambiguous statement as a fact of what every man, woman and child knows is not a fact. He is most unfortunate in the period selected. Within that period it can be shown conclusively that enterprise was actually checked while his party was in power and that it has been moving forward with amazing strides during the remainder of that period."

By way of providing assertion Mr. Jones then submitted these figures relative to the business of the country for the period referred to:

"Foreign commerce—In 1889 exports aggregated $742,401,000; in 1893 $847,665,000, an increase of $105,264,000. Imports in 1889, $745,131,000; in 1893, $886,400,000 an increase of $140,269,000.

"By 1896, after three years of Democratic administration, exports increased only $34,941,000, while imports had decreased $6,676,000. In 1913, which marks the close of an uninterrupted period of Republican policies and legislation, American exports had increased $1,583,278,000, and imports had increased $1,033,284,000.

"Bank deposits—From 1889 to 1893 deposits in national banks increased $114,624,000. In 1896 the increase for three Democratic years was only $111,652,000. By 1913 national bank deposits had increased $4,285,945,000. Total deposits in all banks from 1889 to 1893 showed an increase of $850,813,000. By 1896 the increase was only $317,901,000 under Democratic policies. By 1913 the increase aggregated $12,537,220,000.

"Manufacturing industry—In 1890 the value of products of American manufacture was $9,372,378,000. By 1900, after a period including four years of Democratic rule, this value increased only $2,034,548,000. By 1910, after ten years of uninterrupted Republican rule, the increase amounted to $9,265,125,000. Wages showed a corresponding fluctuation.

"In 1912," went on Mr. Jones, "railroad mileage was 258,033, passengers carried 1,004,081,000, and freight 1,844,977,000 tons at .744 cents a ton per mile, or an increase in mileage of 71,352, and of passengers carried 492,308,000 and of freight 1,091,261,000 at a decrease of .162 cents a ton per mile. Yet the president says: 'Enterprise has been checked for 20 years.' Does he really mean it, or was he chuckling when he said it?"

What the German-Americans Are Organizing For

In this week's issue of THE LITERARY DIGEST (Feb. 13th, on sale to-day), there is an article which fully describes the organization activities of the German-Americans in the United States—who and what the organizers and the organizations are, and what they are trying to accomplish. This article clearly reflects public opinion regarding this very grave and newest development of the war and is of great interest to the American public, who will want to know:

Whether this movement will influence America's neutrality attitude;

Whether its activities will be directed for or against political candidates for office;

What effect it will have in connection with the next Presidential campaign;

Whether or not such a plan of organizing sentiment will react upon those responsible for promulgating it.

Not only does THE LITERARY DIGEST cover the Great War in the most unbiased and reliable way, reprinting striking cartoons, photographs, and documents, opinions of leading men and women actually engaged in the conflict; but all other important topics that vitally concern mankind throughout the world are dwelt upon. Foreign and Domestic Politics, Invention, Science, Commerce, Literature, Religion, Art, Music, and Drama—all the news in these spheres of activity is presented for the information of THE DIGEST'S million readers.

EDISON MAKES IMPORTANT DISCOVERY

PICTURES VARIED CAREER OF ZOLA

This celebrated case is recalled by many persons now because of the prominence it was given in the newspapers in the United States.

Dreyfus, who was a French artillery officer, was found guilty of selling military papers to the French embassy and was imprisoned on Ile du Diable (Devil's Island.) Zola who was then preparing another novel, interested himself in the case. He investigated it thoroughly and then published a long article in an unheard of newspaper which had nothing to lose. He accused those guilty of imposing a sentence on an innocent man and showed the papers to prove his guilt had been forged.

Zola was arrested and found guilty of libel and fled to England. While living there in obscurity and under assumed names, he wrote Fecundity, which Mrs. Brown said, was to give France a new conception of parenthood. Later Dreyfus was retried and condemned by being immediately pardoned. He pleaded to be sentenced if guilty, and if not, to be set free by the jury. Mrs. Brown recalled, but the ruling stood and a general amnesty was declared for all those in the case. This gave Zola the privilege of returning to France.

In 1906, Mrs. Brown said Dreyfus was declared innocent, Zola's charges in his original article having been proved true, but Zola did not live to see his cause triumph. When he was preparing to write another novel, "Justice," fate intervened. Mrs. Brown said. He was asphyxiated. A motley crowd followed him to his grave. Mrs. Brown said, in token of what he had done for the oppressed, although his dreams had been to be buried surrounded only by a few of his intimate friends in a quiet country graveyard.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder is troubling you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

TILLAGE WILL HELP

Roll the wheatfield as soon as it will bear a team upon it. Follow this rolling immediately with a light harrowing. Better use a "weeder" if you have one. If you have a harrow with adjustable teeth, throw the teeth back at an angle of 45 degrees and harrow the field, going back and forth parallel with the wheat rows. This harrowing will not injure the wheat roots, but will break up the crust and make a surface mulch. This surface mulch will prevent much evaporation and save thousands of barrels of water. If you do not happen to have a roller, or if you do not think it wise to roll the wheat, harrow just the same. It pays.

Plantfood Makes Crops

The tiny wheat plant must have special nourishment. It must have a liberal supply of readily available plant-food of the right kind to maintain it in vigorous growth. Big crops demand enormous quantities of plant-food. The biggest help you can give your wheat crop is to apply 100 pounds per acre of Scott's Steamed Bone and Potash, analyzing 2 per cent Ammonia, 8 per cent available Phosphoric Acid, and 2 per cent Potash. This should be broadcasted or distributed on the wheat through the fertilizer attachment of the wheat drill, with the line spreader, or other fertilizer distributor. If the wheat drill is used, leave the discs suspended so that they will not cut the wheat plants. Apply this fertilizer before the field is rolled. Harrowing it will work it into the soil where the roots make best use of the plant-food. You can carry on these operations until the wheat is up 4 inches in height without injury to the crop. Fertilizer feeds the crop. It contains no weed seeds.

Help For Grass and Clover Seeding

If grass and clover seed is sown upon the wheat field in early Spring, this early sowing will bury the seed sufficiently deep to insure good germination. The addition of available plant-food in the forms mentioned, will greatly increase the chances of a successful patch of grass. By such treatment, weak wheat will be greatly benefitted and materially assisted towards a profitable yield of superior quality of grain. Top dressing pays. Try it on your Oats and double the yield.

FLOUR IS 10 CENTS LOWER HERE TODAY

With Wheat Showing Net Loss of Over Five Cents in Chicago Today, Price Declines.

FARMERS EXPECTED TO SELL

Due to a net loss for May wheat of five and one quarter cents on the Chicago stock exchange today, the Rush County Mills notified Rushville dealers today that the price of their flour was ten cents lower. May wheat at Chicago today was fourteen cents below the recent high mark established during the present flurry in wheat. It closed in Chicago today at $1.54 cents. July wheat showed a net loss of five cents closing at $1.29 7/8. May corn closed at 79 1/2 cents, a net loss of five-eighths of a cent, and July at 81 cents, a loss of three-quarters of a cent. May oats closed at 60 3/8 cents and July at 60 5/8 cents, both a loss.

The rapid decline in the price of wheat is expected to cause many farmers who have been holding their wheat in hope of higher prices to throw it on the market for fear that the highest price has been reached and the bottom is now falling out of the market. Wheat was quoted at $1.45 a bushel here today. One farmer is reported to have sold a thousand bushels here this week for $1.58 new high mark for Rushville.

DEVELOPMENTS IN BATTLE

Filibuster Within Filibuster in Ship Purchase Fight

(By United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 13.—A conference of senate Democrats in the forenoon, a filibuster within a filibuster in the senate and proposal to choke off discussion and expedite the administration compromise bill in the house were developments in the ship purchase battle in congress. The conference was called in the hope that the seven bolting Democrats would participate and accept the president's compromise bill and agree to support it in the senate after it passes the house next week.

BILL ATTRACTS WIDE ATTENTION

Measure to Force Change of Venue Whenever Demanded Will Probably be Brought to Vote.

WHAT FRIENDS SAY FOR IT

Opponents of Measure Declare it is Aimed at Judge Collins in Marion County.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Feb. 13.—Senator Elmer (Dem.) of Seymour said today that his bill No. 181, which applies to every county in the state and has attracted wide attention, would probably be brought to a vote in the senate early next week, possibly Monday. The bill would force circuit or criminal court in every county to allow change of venue from the county in criminal cases.

Friends of the bill say it is desired by labor and gives justice to alleged criminals. Opponents of the bill say it is directed solely at Judge Collins of the Marion criminal court, who is on the opposite side of the political fence from Mayor Bell's administration. They add that it would cost the counties an enormous aggregate sum, annually.

This bill probably will bring one of the prettiest fights of the session. Fremont C. Alford, former judge of the Marion county criminal court, fired today one of the opening guns in the fight when he declared that this bill if enacted would cost the state through its counties an aggregate sum of 2,000,000 annually. Former Senator Stotsenberg has been quoted as making the same statement.

These men point out that the county from which the change is taken would have to bear the entire expense of the trial in the adjoining county.

Senator Elmer gave the United Press his argument against this today. He said it would not cost the average county more than $50 annually. He said that when changes were taken, the court granting the change would have more time for other cases, and that it didn't matter much whether the cost was paid to an adjoining county or to the local court.

Elmer brought up John O'Meara, a Monon conductor who represents the order of railroad conductors. O'Meara said labor was for the bill because it would give laborers a chance when they were brought before an unfriendly judge.

Two clauses of the bill are especially significant. They are quoted:

"Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the state of Indiana that the court in term or the judge thereof in vacation shall change the venue of any criminal action upon the application of either state or the defendant made upon the affidavit showing one or more of the following excuses:

"Third, That the opposite party has an undue influence over the citizens of the county, or that an odium attaches to the applicant, or to the defense or prosecution, on account of local prejudice."

"Sixth, When either party shall make and file an affidavit of the bias, prejudice, or interest of the judge before whom the said prosecution is pending."

The bill would repeal two sections (203 and 207) of the act concerning public offenses, approved March 10, 1905. They concern change of venue, and one leaves it to the discretion of the judge whether to grant a change of venue from the county when the affidavit is founded on excitement of prejudice in the county against the defendant, except when the life of the defendant is at stake, when the court must grant the change.

Delivery By Schedule vs The Old Haphazard Way

We are independent, also progressive. After watching the operations of union delivery service in other cities, after writing many letters and talking to many people from towns where they have such service we are more than glad to have the opportunity for giving our customers the same kind of service.

Every woman in Rushville knows just when to expect the postman with the mail. With the Benson system in operation the grocery order will come in the same prompt way.

Which is the better, to know exactly when to expect an order, or to have it delivered in maybe ten minutes or maybe two hours after ordering?

As to the sanitary feature, the central station, according to our contract must be kept as clean as any store in town and probably will be cleaner than some. Covered wagons with double decks will be used and orders will be handled in a more sanitary manner than when piled in an open wagon.

We leave it to the judgment of our customers to decide which is the better.
